

Alexandria Gazette.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 14, 1910.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Sun Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 7:16 and sets at 5:05.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section rain or snow tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature; minimum temperature tonight about 34°; moderate to brisk easterly, shifting to northerly winds.

ACCIDENT ON THE SOUTHERN.

Extra freight No. 730, northbound, which was a double-header, on the Southern Railway, ran into local freight No. 61 at Oulpeper, about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the northbound track. The local freight had crossed over from the southbound track to the northbound track to let No. 45, a Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train, go by, and was standing on the northbound track when extra No. 730 came around the curve. The engineer of the extra applied the brakes, but they would not work, as the track was slippery.

One car of the extra was telescoped and thrown on the southbound track in face of the Chesapeake and Ohio train, delaying the passenger train about an hour and a half. The railroad officials blame both train crews. The cowcatchers on both engines that bit were smashed to splinters. The car that was telescoped was loaded with merchandise, which was injured but little. The wreck was not cleared from the northbound track until about 7:30 p. m.

Engineer Oberot, of the extra, in jumping, sprained his ankle, while Engineer Bernhart, of the local, also in jumping, sustained a slight injury to his back.

OPERA HOUSE.

In "Mabel Heath" at the Opera House last night the players were not only cast in such a manner as to bring out the best work possible, but the play itself was a continuance of beautiful scenes, true to life and depicting in a manner which was the admiration of the entire audience. It is surprising that Alexandria theatre goers who nightly attend the Washington play houses, should not give more general support to a company of artists who offer productions that compare favorably with many so-called high class attractions of the capital city at prices more than double those charged here. "Mabel Heath" will be continued until Saturday night. The regular weekly amateur contest is also announced for tonight.

BUILDING ASSOCIATION MEETING.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the German Co-operative Building Association, No. 5, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Isaac Eichberg, president; Justus Schneider, secretary and treasurer; Thomas Hoy and P. F. Gorman, directors to serve three years; John D. Normoyle, Henry Baader and P. M. Badshaw, trustees. The directors declared the annual dividend in the 3rd series of $12 per share, in the 4th series $7 per share, in the 5th series $4.50 per share, in the 6th series $3 per share and in the 7th series $1 per share.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.

A jury in the Circuit Court for this city yesterday afternoon awarded Mr. J. H. J. Lively damages in the sum of $300 to his suit against the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained while leaving a train of the defendant company. The plaintiff was represented by Messrs. J. K. M. Norton and William E. Fodell, and the company by Messrs. J. O. Carter and J. S. Barbour. The suit was for $10,000.

MILITARY PROMOTIONS.

Adjutant-General Anderson has received notice of the acceptance by Second Lieutenant Carroll H. May of the position of first lieutenant in Company G, First Virginia Regiment, Alexandria Light Infantry, Volunteer Infantry. Lieutenant May will report for an examination within the next six days. Arthur Herbert, first sergeant of Company G, is promoted to the second lieutenant of his company, made vacant by the promotion of Lieutenant May.

COURT CLEARS.

Court clerks representing thirty-two cities and counties met in Richmond Wednesday and organized, electing the following officers: A. S. Johnson, Isle of Wight, president; J. V. Trehy, Norfolk, first vice president; Walter Christian, Richmond, second vice president; John H. Gose, Bristol, third vice president; E. H. Holt, Elizabeth City county, secretary and treasurer. The next meeting will be held at Norfolk the second Wednesday in August.

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM.

As will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere, Messrs. E. A. Thompson and George L. Appich have formed a partnership in the real estate and insurance business, and will open offices tomorrow at 167 1/2 North Royal street. Mr. Thompson is a native of Fairfax, and is interested in realty there. Mr. Appich has for several years been connected with J. D. Normoyle in the real estate business with which he is thoroughly acquainted. The firm will be known as Thompson & Appich and will start the business under the most favorable conditions.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

Dr. S. B. Moore, the coroner, and a jury, composed of Messrs. Harry Kirk, Samuel W. Pitt, W. C. Davis, M. T. Dwyer, J. H. Fisher and T. L. Carter, will hold an inquest tonight at 8 o'clock at Mr. B. Wheatley's undertaking parlors to investigate the shooting of Joseph A. Horsman in the Potomac Railroad yards on Wednesday night.

THE WEATHER.

Snow commenced falling shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday evening and continued for some time. This was followed by a rain which lasted till late this morning when there was another light fall of snow. In the meantime the temperature moderated and the streets became filled with slush, making walking very disagreeable. At noon the mercury stood at 36° with threatening rain.

You can make the holiday season more appreciated if you present some dear friend with a pair of the handsome shoes shown in Marshall's windows.

There were no changes on the river today. The surface is a moving mass of broken ice.

Smith Sentenced.

The Convicted Murderer to be Executed Friday, February 18—Prisoner Makes a Rambling Statement to the Court—Grins and Thanks the Judge for Sentence—Has Dreams of the End of the World.

Warden Candler and Officers Rawlett and Sampson went to the court house of Alexandria county this morning for the purpose of conducting Henry Smith, the last of the four negroes convicted of participating in the murder of Walter F. Schultz, to this city. At 10:40 they appeared in the Corporation Court room with the convicted man and placed him in the dock.

The court was subsequently called to order when Judge Bailey, addressing Smith, asked him if he withdrew his appeal for an arrest of judgment and a new trial.

Smith replied that that matter was in the hands of his attorneys. Mr. F. P. Russell, one of his counsel, arose and stated that Smith had made a statement to him and had been cautioned against saying anything to others; but the prisoner had subsequently told stories to others. Mr. Russell, however, said he was still prepared to do what he could for him.

The judge said Smith in a letter sent him had renounced the motion for an arrest of judgment and a new trial.

Mr. Brumback, one of the counsel for Smith, said the motion made after the jury had returned their verdict was in the interest of the client, and counsel had done all in their power. If Smith, however, did not desire a new trial, his counsel would not insist upon it.

The judge said he had decided to overrule the motion, and he ordered Smith to stand up, and he was asked if he had anything to say to show why sentence should not be passed upon.

Smith stood and substantially stated what was printed in his confession published in the Gazette on Wednesday. He reiterated that Chief Goods and Officer Sampson were responsible for his commission of perjury, and if (time was given him he could bring forward facts to prove his charge. He again proclaimed the innocence of the three men now in the penitentiary as well as his own, and said he did not know who killed Schultz. He went on to say that it was better for him to die than to allow three innocent men to be electrocuted. Smith was earnest in his appeal to the court to see that he was not lynched, but did not want his body torn to pieces. He appealed to God to witness that he was innocent of murder, although he had committed perjury. He repeated his charges against Chief Goods and Officer Sampson and turning to the latter, who stood near, he could look him in the face and reiterate all he had previously said, Smith said he wanted a chance to prove his innocence. He did not ask freedom, as he had given up all, not dreading electrocution but having a horror of lynching.

Judge Bailey interrupted Smith by telling him he would be protected from violence, and although Smith seemed anxious to keep on talking, the judge pronounced sentence as follows:

The crime of which you have been convicted was one of the most cold blooded and dastardly murders ever perpetrated in the criminal annals of this country. Thirty-six men as good citizens as you are within the walls of this state or elsewhere, as good jurors as ever sat in a jury box, have largely upon your statement of this crime convicted three men of being implicated with you in it. Two other jurors standing equally high in character and intelligence have found you guilty. The crime itself is revolting and horrible in its details, but to this you have added perjury and from your recent statement have shown that you carry within you a heart as hard and as sinful and as black as the crime itself which you have committed, and for which I am about to sentence you. A case comparable to this in all its horrible details and surrounding circumstances has probably never before been known to history and a deeper and more consummate villain than you never faced a court of justice. This is the first case in all my experience where in passing the death sentence I have not had sincere regret. I cannot say that in this case. It is, therefore, the sentence of this court that you be taken to the jail at Fairfax county, Va., where you will be confined until taken to the state penitentiary house of this state under the law, and then confined there until Friday, February 18, 1910, when you will be taken to the death chamber thereof, and electrocuted until you are dead, dead, and may God have mercy on your soul.

At the conclusion of the sentence Smith grinned and said, "Thank you." The prisoner was then removed from the court room and subsequently with the officers in charge of him boarded an electric train at the corner of King and Royal streets and was soon out of the city on his way to the Fairfax county jail. In the few minutes he remained at the corner a number of persons gathered to see the prisoner off.

While in the station house Smith told Mayor Poff that during his confinement in jail he had a capper and a messenger who kept him posted as to everything that was going on in his case.

Smith issued another statement today. The following are some extracts:

Most Honorable Citizens: I today, your most humble prisoner, Henry Smith, feel it my duty to drop these few lines to you which may pay but little attention to, because it is gone so far, and you may say you don't believe me at all. The truth has just been told you. But I did not write this letter to you to make a wide good, or to be free from death. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was fifty feet high, and the ears of the corn were as big as the ears of the corn I have seen in the field. I saw Chief Goods' house and the elements were on fire, also his house. I dreamed this two nights. I did not know anything about it. I am satisfied I'm going to die for this crime which I know nothing about at all. God may I do not, and the death of this man has never been found out, and when I am dead and gone, God will show to everybody in this city that they have killed an innocent man. I dreamed two nights I saw two rows of corn grown up in the middle of King street, and the corn was